ABOUT ME

I'm an entrepreneur, blogger, and Life Strategist from Chicago, Illinois. While completing my Counseling Psychology dissertation, I needed a creative outlet so I began blogging. Since that time, I became passionate about blogging, and I enjoying sharing what I learn and experience with my audience. From this passion, ThisSingleSole.org was created.

THIS SINGLE SOLE

ThisSingleSole.org is a blog that provides lifestyle information related resources to a primarily female audience. The main topics we focus on are reviews, events, travel, weightloss, dating and other lifestyle topics. I enjoy sharing my world and experiences with others and look forward to the dialogue that my readers provide with their comments.

DEMOGRAPHICS

My readers are amazing women (95%), primarily single, professional women. They're extremely tech savvy and interested in new products, new places to travel and things to do. They also enjoy the encouragement and words of wisdom that are shared daily through my social media outlets.
